

Team Elimination

Objective:

It is time to determine the best. Which teams have the skill, the courage, the strategy, and the desire to forge a name for themselves? Only some will prove worthy. Only a few will win. Only a handful will show the have what it takes to unlock the gates to higher levels of achievement. Let the games begin!

Description:

Team Elimination is a strategic game in which players must work together in teams.

In team Elimination, each player's pack starts the game with 100 units of power. When a player is tagged, they lose 10 units of power. If the player's power reaches zero, the player's pack shuts down to indicate the player has been eliminated from the game and must leave the arena.

Players must try to remain in the game.

The team with the most remaining players at the conclusion of the game is declared the winner.

Game Play:

- Each player's pack starts each game with 100 units of power.
- When a player is tagged, they lose 10 units of power.
- If the player's power reaches zero, the player's pack shuts down to indicate the player has been eliminated from the game and must exit the arena.